

THE ETHICS OF REPRESENTATION

Explore how to ethically engage in research or creative practice that involves people from marginalised or minority groups and/or people from diverse ethnic backgrounds.

Tuesday 28 May 2019

11:15-16:30

Newton Park, Commons CM.106

Programme

- 11:15-11:30 Welcome and registration
- 11:30-12:00 Privilege awareness exercise
- 12:00-12:45 Who owns the knowledge and whom does it serve? Creative research with indigenous communities
(Sara Penrhyn Jones, Bath Spa University)
- 12:45-13:30 How to take your fictive-responsibility: Ethical motives and expressions in an aesthetically-driven world
(Dr Lauren Hayhurst, Arts University Bournemouth)
- 13:30-14:00 Lunch (provided)
- 14:00-14:45 Queer and trans possibilities vs the single story
(Fox Benwell, Anglia Ruskin University)
- 14:45-15:05 Challenging ableism in academia
(Dr Tanvir Bush and Dr Stuart Read, BSU)
- 15:05-15:15 Short break
- 15:15-16:00 Unpacking the backpack of white privilege in an ableist world
(Dr Jacqui Lovell, BSU)
- 16:00-16:25 Difficult situations, difficult decisions: a PhD researcher's experience
(Stephanie Harvey, BSU)

Book your place

bit.ly/ethicsrepworkshop

www.bathspalive.com

For more information or booking enquiries:
ethicsofrepresentation@gmail.com